AMERICA ON HER DIGNITY.

HITCH OVER NANKING CEREMONY.

CHINA DECLINES TO SALUTE CONSULATE FLAG.

RE-OPENING DISPUTE.

Shanghai, Oct. 2.
The elaborate American plans for the re-opening of the United States Consulate at Nanking have received a decided setback, an extraordinary controversy apparently having arisen between the American and Chinese authorities over the question of appropriate salutes.

At this stage it is impossible to prophesy what is likely to transpire, but in Shanghai it is thought that the re-opening which was expected to take place on November 1st, with much ceremony, has now been rendered uncertain.

American Plans.

The U.S. officials have had their plans under way for some time. It was proposed that a full division of U.S. destroyers should be sent to Nanking for the purpose of supplying a guard of honour which would attend the ceremony, and which would also fire salutes in answer to Chinese salutes.

This latter proposal over which the dispute has arisen, would be a new departure in American relations with the Nationalists as the U.S. Navy has not previously recognised Nationalist salutes.

China's Refusal.

It is now reported that the Nationalist Government has refused to salute the United States flag as it is hoisted over the U.S. Consulate at Nanking.

It is understood that the Nationalist officials have declared in conversations regarding this question, that the Chinese feel that adequate amends for the Nanking Incident were made at the time of the Settlement of the Incident in March.

The U.S. officials, it is believed, feel otherwise, and consider that a Chinese salute is necessary as the flag goes up in order to amend the desecration of the flag at the time of the Incident.

Should U.S. Salute First?

It is also reported that the Nationalists have declared their willingness to salute if the Americans salute first, thus indicating their recognition of the Nationalist Government of China.

This, it is understood, has proved unacceptable to the Americans and it is believed that the matter has been referred to Washington.

Referred to Washington.

It was last week officially stated in Washington that legal advisers of the State Department have decided that the United States, by signing the Tariff Treaty has already recognised de facto the Nationalist Government.

The legal interpretation of the signing of the Treaty by the United States is that it constituted "full recognition of the Nationalist regime."

Now Uncertain.

It was also announced that following this intimation, the advantage would be taken of the re-opening of the Consulate at Nanking to deliver a fitting message to the Chinese people.

The controversy which appears to have developed over the question of which country is to salute first may entirely alter the complexion of affairs.—Reuter.

TWO NEW BRITISH APPOINTMENTS.

BANGKOK MINISTER FOR ADDIS ABABA.

London, Oct. 1.
H.M. the King has approved the following appointments:
Mr. Charles Bentinck, Minister at Addis Ababa, to be Minister at Lima.

Mr. Sydney Waterlow, Minister at Bangkok, to be Minister at Addis Ababa.—British Wireless.

HONGKONG HOTEL CORNER SITE.

LAND INVESTMENT CO. TO DEVELOP IT.

A RUMOUR DENIED.

Since the announcement was made some four months ago that the Hongkong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., had sold the portion of the Hongkong Hotel which was burnt down in the disastrous fire on New Year's Day, 1926, there have been various rumours as to the purpose for which it would be used.

During the past few days, reports have been in circulation that the Wing On Company were intending to erect a new department store on the site, but enquiry this morning from the Hongkong Land Investment and Agency Co., Ltd., the owners of the property, shows that this report is quite unfounded.

When a Telegraph representative called on Mr. L. S. Greenhill, the Secretary of the Land Investment Co., he was informed that there was no truth whatever in the report mentioned, and added that the Land Investment Co. intended to develop the site themselves.

It will be recalled that the site, together with No. 16, Des Voeux Road Central, which formerly housed the Alexandra Cafe, was bought by the Land Investment Co. for about a million and a half dollars in May last.

NAVAL LIMITATION PROPOSALS.

ANGLO-FRENCH DOCUMENTS ALL SENT TO U.S.

BRIGHTER PROSPECT?

London, Oct. 1.
It is announced in London that following the unfavourable reply from Washington regarding the Anglo-French naval agreement, both the British and French Governments have handed to the United States Government, for their information, all the documents connected with the naval limitation proposals, revealing the manner in which the accord was attained.

It is reported by Reuter's Paris correspondent that it is understood in authoritative circles that there will be no immediate reply to the American Note, as the Note itself is in the nature of a reply.

It is, however, considered that a new phase in the negotiations has been opened by the nature of the American reply and that negotiations can be continued through diplomatic channels.

It is pointed out that by taking the points upon which an agreement has been reached as a starting point, a successful issue should ultimately be attained.—Reuter.

FRENCH SUBJECT IN TROUBLE.

A SERIOUS ALLEGATION MENTIONED.

Paris, Oct. 1.
Pascal Grisoni, a French subject, before Major C. Willson, with being in possession of an automatic pistol and six rounds of ammunition. The weapon, a product of the Fabrique Nationale D'Armes Le Guerre Herstal, Belgium, was seized by the police at No. 8, Fung Fair Terrace.

Sub-Inspector Elston, prosecuting, informed his Worship that the police would like a remand of twenty-four hours, as there was a serious allegation behind the charge and they would like a remand in order to conduct the necessary investigations.

His Worship accordingly remanded the defendant for twenty-four hours.

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY.

FORTNIGHT'S STAY IN CALIFORNIA.

San Pedro, Oct. 1.
Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain have arrived here, being escorted by four United States destroyers. They will stay in California for two weeks.—Reuter.

CRITICAL TIMES IN MELBOURNE.

STRIKES IN CLASHES WITH POLICE.

GENERAL STRIKE THREAT'S REVIVAL.

QUIETER ELSEWHERE.

Melbourne, Oct. 1.
The city is in a turmoil to-day as the result of the serious rioting, which recalls memories of the disturbances in the police mutiny of 1923.

Although many persons have been taken into custody, the strikers' activities continue, though it is noticeable that their attacks are chiefly directed against South Europeans rather than against British volunteers.

Many nasty incidents have occurred, scuffles between police, strikers and volunteers breaking out spasmodically in different parts of the city. Two foreigners were severely injured during the morning and sent to hospital, and later in the day their number was

SHANGHAI POST OFFICE STRIKE.

Postmen and Clerks Demand Wage Increases.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS.

Shanghai, Oct. 2.
Eighteen hundred postal employees and junior clerks of the lower grades struck work this morning, presenting a demand for an increase of wages. Letters had not been delivered up to ten o'clock this morning.

So far there have been no disturbances, but the police are taking every precaution.—Reuter.

Our Shanghai correspondent cables that the strike was declared at daylight and has caused a complete postal stoppage. He adds that the situation is disquieting, owing to the activities of insidious forces aiming at a revival of industrial strife in the Shanghai area.

considerably added to, several serious affrays developing in the dock quarter.

Police Use Batons.

The Police have their hands full. The strikers are picketing the offices which have been opened for the issue of licenses under the new Act. They have been watching the place all day and anyone suspected of taking out a license is immediately chased until rescued by the Police.

The Police in many cases have had to resort to the use of their batons in order to protect the volunteer workers, and this had led to serious clashes. One constable is in hospital with serious hurts.

A big inter-State conference of Trade Unions discussed the whole problem at great length to-day, but could reach no satisfactory agreement and adjourned the matter until to-morrow.

General Strike Threat.

A large section favours the proposal that the waterside workers who are on strike should take out licenses in accordance with the new Act, but the militant section are extremely powerful and it is thought likely that they will force a general strike in sympathy with the watersiders.

Under police protection, 1,049 overseas to-day worked fourteen overcast vessels.

Serious developments are also reported from Brisbane where the situation appeared to have improved, some of the strikers clashing with the police. The moles which ensued resulted in injury to two police constables and to many strikers, two of whom were placed under arrest.

Brisbane Improvement.

A later message from Brisbane, however, states that on the arrival

ASTOUNDING FIGHT IN GERMANY.

PITCHED BATTLE BETWEEN TWO "ARMIES."

MILITARY STRATEGY.

Berlin, Oct. 1.
Eye-witnesses of the amazing fracas at Giesebacht, in which one man was killed, over two hundred injured, including fifteen seriously, and which has caused the postponement of the municipal elections, give remarkable accounts of the affair.

They describe it as a regular pitched battle between two "armies," each approximately 1,500 strong. The Communists were on the one side and the Republicans on the other.

The two "armies" fought in regular military style in discipline of bodies, which were exercised with almost professional strategy, the combatants sheltering behind wall and trees.

When any particular sector of the battle appeared to be threatened, reinforcements were thrown into the battle front, reserves being brought up at the rear.

Another astounding feature of the affair was that the fighters were served by ambulance detachments who carried wounded from the front line.

Although the weapons were mainly bricks, empty bottles, bludgeons, daggers, knuckle-dusters and a number of pocket firearms were used. The struggles were only terminated by the arrival of a strong force of police from Hamburg.—Reuter.

CHINESE MINISTER TO WASHINGTON.

DR. C. C. WU READY TO ACCEPT APPOINTMENT.

Nanking, Oct. 1.
It is intimated that Dr. C. C. Wu, the former Foreign Minister, who is now in the United States, has announced his willingness to accept the appointment as Minister to U.S.A. in Washington. The appointment, it is thought, will shortly be confirmed.—Nam Chung Pao.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

POMPEY DEFEATED AT MANCHESTER.

London, Oct. 1.
In the First Division of the Football League to-day, Manchester City defeated Portsmouth by two goals to one.

Raith Rovers outplayed Ayr United in the Scottish League, winning by four goals to two.—Reuter.

SWEDISH CABINET.

NEW MINISTERS ACCEPT PORTFOLIOS.

Stockholm, Oct. 1.
The following portfolios have been accepted in the new Conservative Cabinet:
Premier—Rear Admiral Arvid Lindman.
Foreign Minister—M. Trygger.
Finance Minister—Prof. Wohlin.
Minister of Justice—M. Blomberg.—Reuter.

of thousands of farmers, from Mackay to load the large accumulation of sugar in the godowns, the waterside workers there have decided to resume work.

At Adelaide, the situation is also much improved, a mass meeting of the strikers deciding to resume work. The men are freely applying for licenses.

The ship-owners have arranged for two pick-ups for to-morrow, one for members of the Trade Union, and one for the volunteers.

Big Works Close Down.

The effect of the strike in Adelaide has been brought vigorously to the attention of the public by an announcement that owing to the shortage of materials through the strike of the watersiders, Messrs. Holden's motor body building works, employing three thousand people, have been forced to close down.—Reuter.

BRITISH LABOUR AND "REDS."

CONFERENCE FAVOURS EXPULSION.

"INTOLERABLE POSITION MUST END."

COMMUNISTS BANNED.

London, Oct. 1.
There was a lively discussion at the annual Conference of the Labour Party, at Birmingham to-day, on the question of the expulsion of Communists from the Party, the result being a decided endorsement of the Executive Committee's stand to prohibit the attendance of such delegates at the annual gathering.

The debate arose on the report of the Executive Committee, which submitted to the Conference for approval. This stated that a policy had been formulated to secure complete loyalty to the Party and the expulsion of the Communist element.

The reference back of this part of the report was moved as an

NEWS OF THE GERMAN AIRMAN.

ROUTE AGAIN CHANGED.

A wireless message received from the Telegraph's Canton correspondent this morning states that news has been received there to the effect that Baron von Huenefeld, the German aviator, left Calcutta for Hanoi yesterday morning.

There has been considerable doubt regarding the Baron's movements during the past few days. He is on a flight from Europe to Tokyo, and on Thursday it was announced that he would fly via Mandala, Canton and Nanking.

On Saturday, a private message stated that he had left on a non-stop attempt from Calcutta to Canton, but this now proves incorrect. Whether he will now visit Canton is not definitely known.

amendment, which was, however, defeated by a large majority.

"Intolerable Position."

During the course of a heated debate on the subject, a representative of the Executive Committee stated that local Labour Parties had been prohibited from sending Communist delegates to the annual Conference, but Trade Unions had been allowed to do so.

"This intolerable position must be ended," declared the speaker. The Executive Committee's report was eventually adopted.—Reuter.

The Simon Commission.

London, Oct. 1.
The appointment of the Indian Commission under the chairmanship of Sir John Simon was the subject of a hostile motion introduced at the Labour Conference at Birmingham to-day by Mr. Fenner Brockway.

The motion was rejected by the enormous majority of 2,959,000 card votes against 160,000.

In the course of the discussion, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Labour leader, emphasised the democratic character of the Commission. He said the Labour representatives on the Commission would do their best to build a golden bridge for India, which would make India the captain of her own salvation.—British Wireless.

State Ownership.

London, Oct. 1.
Mr. George Lansbury, M.P., delivering the chairman's address at the annual Labour Party conference at Birmingham, deplored the lack of unity prevailing in a few sections of the Party. He emphasised that in the democratic movement the majority (Continued on Page 8.)

MUKDEN RAILWAY FRICTION?

YEN HSI-SHAN'S DISPUTE WITH PEI CHUNG-HSI.

BIGGER THINGS IN AIR?

Peking, Oct. 2.
It is reported that friction has developed between Marshal Yen Hsi-shan and General Pei Chung-hsi following an attempt by the Hankow leader to appoint his own nominee as Director of the Peking-Mukden Railway, which is expected to resume normal service shortly.

The present incumbent was appointed by Marshal Yen Hsi-shan and the latter is objecting strongly to having his man pushed out. Marshal Yen's incumbent yesterday wired to his Chief in Peking for instructions, and Marshal Yen Hsi-shan ordered him to remain at his post.

It is reported that General Pei Chung-hsi has retaliated by threatening to stop all traffic unless his man is allowed to take over the Directorship.—Reuter.

From Chinese sources, it is reported that Marshal Yen-Hsi-shan yesterday despatched $100,000 to Pei Chung-hsi for the payment of arrears, and in local Chinese circles, the opinion is expressed that if there is really a quarrel between the two leaders, it results from the larger question of the control of the district, and not solely from the railway control.

OVER 300 MILES PER HOUR.

BRITISH AIRMAN MAKES FINE TRIAL FLIGHT.

HOPES OF SUCCESS.

London, Oct. 1.
In making a trial flight at Calshot on the Supermarine Napier S5 seaplane with which he hopes to beat the air speed record of 318 1/2 miles per hour, held by the Italian, Major De Bernardi, Flight-Lieut. D'Arcy Greig to-day travelled well over 300 miles per hour.

The weather conditions were good. Flight-Lieutenant Greig was in the air for 24 minutes, and he made the quickest tour on record of Portsmouth, the Isle of Wight and Southampton.

He expressed complete satisfaction with his machine. A slight change is to be made with the rigging of the machine, and mechanics will work throughout the night to make this adjustment, so that Flight-Lieutenant Greig can make another trial flight to-morrow morning.—British Wireless.

CANADIAN AIR MAIL DEVELOPMENTS.

REGULAR SERVICE BETWEEN MONTREAL & NEW YORK.

Montreal, Oct. 2.
A bear cub was one of the passengers in the new air mail express service between Montreal and New York which was inaugurated yesterday.

Attached to the cub was a message from the Mayor of Montreal to the Mayor of New York. Fifty Canadian planes acted as a preliminary escort to the mail plane.

A regular air mail and passenger service between Toronto and Montreal was also inaugurated yesterday.—Reuter's American Service.

KIANGSI'S "MODEL" GOVERNOR.

PLANS OF GOVERNOR CHU PEI-TEI.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.
General Chu Pei-tei, the chairman of the Kiangsi provincial government, has issued an announcement to the effect that the future administration of Kiangsi will be directed to a reduction of military expenditure by 40 per cent, the devotion of the money thus saved to the reconstruction of the province, the abolition of pernicious inland taxes, and the suppression of banditry.

THE SALT GABELLE LOAN PLAN.

CONFIRMATORY ORDER NOW ISSUED.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO BEGIN IMMEDIATELY.

ALL DISTRICT QUOTAS.

Peking, Oct. 2.
It is learned that the Peking Divisional Council and the Hopei (Chihli) provincial authorities have received a telegram from the Nanking Government informing them of the decisions reached regarding the loans secured on the Salt Gabelle.

The telegram mentions that the total amount earmarked from all the salt revenue offices is $10,000,000 and that the collection must begin from yesterday, October 1st.

The money must be forwarded during the year in twelve monthly instalments.—Reuter.

Exact Amounts.

The exact amounts to be paid by each office have just been issued by the Nationalist Government Council in a mandate to the Ministry of Finance, which in reference to the payment of the Salt Loans, says:

"The Minister of Finance is hereby instructed to issue orders to each Salt-producing District, commencing October 1, 1928, to pay towards the service of the Salt Loans and into banks, designated by the Minister of Finance, its quota of the total payment as decided upon by the Budget Committee.

"The list of the respective annual quotas to be paid in 12 equal monthly instalments, is as follows:

Fengtien	895,000	Chuanan	1,025,000
Changlu	1,655,000	Chunpu	159,000
Shantung	425,000	Hsueh	291,000
Hubei	805,000	Changsha	255,000

Kwangtung	525,000	Hsueh	145,000
Yunnan	275,000	Chipei	62,000
Total $10,000,000

Mr. Soong on National Credit.

Interviewed by the Kuo Min correspondent, Mr. T. V. Soong, Minister of Finance, made the following statement in reference to the above mandate:

"Prior to the Northern Expedition, the service of loans secured on the salt revenue, with the exception of the Reorganization Loan which has always been amply secured and paid from the Customs Surplus, was regularly met from the salt funds. However, when the Militarist government became disorganized, the salt revenue diminished rapidly, until with the approach of our armies to the Yangtze all salt loans, with the exception of the Reorganization Loan, went into default.

Unification of Finance.

"Now that the Revolution has happily succeeded, the Nationalist Government is anxious to maintain the national credit, even before complete unification of finance has been achieved, and before the entire salt revenue has become centralized under the Ministry. It has accordingly given orders that all salt-producing districts shall immediately begin to contribute a quota of its receipts to make up the total sum of ten million dollars annually which is sufficient to pay for all loans secured on the salt revenue, with the exception of the Reorganization Loan which will continue to be met from the Customs Surplus revenue."—Kuo Min.

CHINESE AFFAIRS.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.

Commenting on Sino-Japanese relations Dr. C. T. Wang, the Foreign Minister, in an interview granted to the Chinese Journalist, expressed the opinion that with the settlement of the Nanking Incident with other Powers, a much more conciliatory attitude will be adopted by Japan.

Dr. Wang said he recently sent a representative, Mr. Chau Lung-kwang to interview Mr. Yada, the Japanese Consul-General, Shanghai, with the view to arrangements for the opening of negotiations for the settlement of Sino-Japanese problems. The time has not yet come for formal negotiations.

Mr. Yada, has unofficially stated that he may proceed to Nanking after the inauguration of the five new Councils.

VARYING TALES TO THE POLICE.

An eleven-year-old Chinese was charged before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, with being in possession of 85 po pia lottery tickets at Lo Lung Hang village, Hunghom.

The defendant told his Worship that he had been given the tickets to carry to the Ferry wharf where he would be relieved of the parcel and given 20 cents for his trouble.

Sub-Inspector James said when the boy was arrested he told the detective that he was taking the tickets from the ferry. He refused to give the police his address, stating that his mother and father were dead and that he slept in the streets. He later said he lived in Lower Lascar Row but did not know the number. Subsequently he informed the police that he resided at No. 75, Lower Lascar Row with his mother.

His Worship adjourned the case until to-morrow for the mother's attendance.

The Nationalist Minister of the Interior, Mr. Sze Tu-pu, for an unknown reason, has announced his intention to resign. He is reported to be leaving for Europe to study politics.

WOMAN'S WORLD FOR OUR LADY READERS.

The New Pillows.

ARE FLAT AND LUXURIOUS-LOOKING.

The oblong pillow perched on a bolster which has reigned supreme at the head of our beds for so long is rapidly being supplanted by a couple or more big, square pillows, flat and luxurious-looking, such as the comfort-loving Frenchwoman has preferred for some time. The advantage of these pillows is that they give rest and support to the back and shoulders, as well as the head. Also they lend themselves to the display of most attractive pillow-slips.

In the daytime, of course, in the modern way they are concealed in handsome silk and satin cushion covers, and piled negligently on the bed.

Ensuring Softness.

A bed pillow should contain real down or the softest feathers, and be well stuffed. A hard, flat pillow is the most uncomfortable thing in the world, and utterly sleep-destroying.

It is wise to make pillows at home of down and feathers bought by weight, then the nicest adjustments can be made in the size and stuffing. Feathers will do for under-pillows, but those on which the head actually rests must be of down, or mixed down and specially chosen feathers.

An inner case of ticking contains the stuffing, and is covered by an outer one of plain material, linen or satin, over which goes the dainty pillow-slip.

Washing satin and silk are alternatives with fine linen for pillow-slips.

Very Becoming.

Bottle green satin is becoming to most women, made up into a slim little frock like the one sketched here and finished with light beige crepe collar, cuffs and vest, it is a very attractive proposition.

A Pretty Blonde in Blue.

Blues for the blondes, says Paris, and so created this smart new silhouetted gown for fair Lily Danita just before she departed for Hollywood. The form-fitted bodice is entirely embroidered in rich blue iridescent paillettes and the skirt's four tiers are of tulle in shaded blue of lighter tone.

Your Children.

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

Dr. Adler, head of the child clinic for behaviourism in Vienna and probably the greatest authority in the world on children, says: "A growing child needs a pat on the back, a mother's kiss, and the bright smiles of his elders in order to avoid an almost natural inferiority complex."

"Impress a child with the belief that everything that he does is wrong, that other children are his superiors, and that everything he does is mountainous—and he becomes a failure."

"Only courage is able to develop all the potential faculties and capabilities of a child; lack of courage means retarded development—a discouraged child becomes neurotic."

Once there were two boys in a family. Both boys were equally talented as was proven later in life, when they reached manhood. One attained unusual success at the age of twenty-five or six. The other, who considered himself a failure, plodded along spiritless, discouraged, poor, and unknown until he was nearly forty-five.

Then by a sheer matter of destiny, in which mind at last conquered character, and his light could no longer be hidden under a bushel, he became famous—and rich—overnight. He had invented an electric apparatus that was almost beyond his own dream of a miracle.

The reason for the early success of the oldest boy is obvious. He was a favourite son of his father and praised and petted for all he did. His natural assurance was increased by the petting he got. His courage was tremendous. He was not afraid to tackle anything.

The other boy, naturally timid, was made to feel his inferiority still more by his father's indifference. In this case even the mother helped out. She was always saying to Floyd: "You haven't the spirit of a mouse. I'll get Dick to do it. I wish you were like Dick. I didn't know two boys could be so different."

And Floyd would slip down about ten more notches in his own estimation. He stopped trying, at last. And but for accident he would still be a failure.

I knew these boys. Floyd spent forty-odd miserable years because, as a boy, he needed a little encouragement.

THE ANKING PIRACY.

The community in general and shipping circles in particular have been deeply affected by the tragic happenings on board the s.s. Anking. The ruthless methods of the pirate attackers, the shooting in cold blood of defenceless officers, and the callous disposal of the bodies of the dead, rank the outrage among the most dastardly in the annals of Chinese coastal piracy. The ugly facts need no recapitulation. They are already deeply engraved in the hearts equally of those who were acquainted with the victims and of those who were not. The other side of the picture provides the sole consolation. In the greatest emergency the officers could possibly be called upon to face, their pride of ship and pride of race urged them to action, which, had they time for thought, may never have been contemplated. It was reckless but it was also fearless and their resistance to the attackers calls for nothing but unqualified admiration. The traditions of the British Mercantile Marine were worthily upheld. Unarmed, taken unawares at different parts of the ship, the officers put up a desperate resistance in a terribly unequal contest. The effort was, however, an extremely gallant one, bringing vividly to the mind the "Sunning" epic. In both cases, supreme disregard for personal safety was exhibited in the impulse to combat the pirate gang, although the results were different. The officers of the Sunning carried through a deliberate plan to a successful conclusion. The Anking officers fought where they stood when the surprise attack was made, without a chance of success. Gallantry became tragedy, but the spirit was wonderful.

And what of the future? The whole Colony is asking that question to-day. Is the sacrifice to be in vain? The British authorities are at the moment taking no action. The Canton Government has promised to initiate measures for bringing the gang responsible to book. But even if the Canton expedition is fully successful, that will not be sufficient. The tragic episode demands an immediate effort in order that a recurrence shall be placed beyond the bounds of possibility. The Government recently withdrew all piracy regulations and permitted ship-owners to make their own arrangements for the defence of their vessels, a concession much appreciated in shipping circles. The Anking was defenceless, the bridge was exposed, and it carried no guards. Perhaps it is hardly fair to take the vessel as an example, but we trust that ship-owners will realise that no vessel operating on the China Coast can be regarded as immune.

In seeking a solution of an admittedly complex problem, to which serious thought has been given in many authoritative quarters, the ruthlessness of the gangs is the greatest factor to be borne in mind. Effective naval patrols have been advocated time and time again, but ships' officers generally condemn the suggestion, expressing the opinion that the appearance of a warship would lead to the murder of every officer on board, while the pirates would escape by mingling with the panic-stricken passengers.

A correspondent wrote yesterday advocating a system of regular wireless calls, silence to be the signal for a naval ship to be on watch. The great objection to this proposal is that Hongkong is inadequately equipped to cope with the vast increase in wireless traffic thus entailed, and, further, that the Colony's position renders ordinary wireless communication difficult at the best of times by reason of atmospheric peculiarities. A much sounder plan was demonstrated recently on two ships in the Harbour. They were fitted with an automatic wireless device, separate and distinct from the operator's room, controlled by a battery which could be set in motion by the pressure of a button in another part of the vessel.

Once the button was pressed, continuous S.O.S. messages were sent out until the battery ran out. It could be differently placed in different ships and so arranged that it could not be meddled with once the battery was started. It has possibilities inasmuch as the device could be tuned to a certain wave-length and a special receiver for the receipt of such messages alone could be installed at the Naval Yard. Both these wireless proposals however involve intervention, which appears to be the bugbear for shipping men. Beyond them, we see only one prospect, and that is the conversion of the bridge into a veritable citadel, with four British sailors or soldiers installed as members of the crew, one to be on duty on the bridge with a Lewis gun the whole time. The bridge must be armoured plated and impregnable to attack. The remainder of the vessel would need little attention. Even if the engines were put out of action, the pirates could not accomplish their purpose. We think that in this way alone can piracy be prohibited, and we use the word advisedly, believing that a pirate gang on board would accept the impossibility of success and would withhold attack.

The Prayer Book.

The average layman must be somewhat puzzled by the latest development in connection with the Prayer Book controversy. Last year, and again this year, attempts were made to secure Parliamentary sanction for material amendments in the Book, but on each occasion the House of Commons rejected the suggested revisions, fearing that they would open the door to undesirable practices conflicting with the Protestant faith. For all practical purposes, this was expected to end the controversy, as it was generally understood that no departure from the practices authorised by the Book of 1662 could be permitted without Parliamentary consent. News over the Serious defalcations have been discovered at the Kuala Lumpur branch of Whiteaway Laidlaw and Co., amounting to several thousand dollars. The police are investigating the case, and one clerk is under arrest.

Police Headquarters report the death of two Chinese passengers on board the s.s. Anking, the steamer which fell a victim to pirates last week. The information is added that these deaths occurred from natural causes, and were not connected with the piracy.

This morning's Harbour Office reports gave 11 arrivals and 10 departures, leaving 67 vessels in harbour, of which 25 were British. Tonnage was fair, with medium freights, the British total being slightly less than 8,000 tons, and Japanese making heavy returns inward.

The return of notifiable diseases for last week shows six cases of diphtheria (two fatal), five non-fatal cases of typhoid, one fatal case of puerperal fever and one non-fatal occurrence of paratyphoid fever, as well as four deaths from influenza. All were Chinese excepting one Filipino case of diphtheria.

The foundation stone of the new premises of the Mercantile Bank of India in Raffles Square, Singapore, was laid last week by Mrs. Wilson, wife of Mr. N. C. Wilson, manager of the Singapore branch. week-end, however, is to the effect that, following a conference of Bishops, the two Archbishops have issued what may be termed "emergency" rules in which they express approval of such deviations from the old Prayer Book as come within the proposals endorsed by the House of Convocation and the Church Assembly in the revised Book of 1928. On the question of the use of "The Consecration" in the alternative order of Holy Communion, this is only to be used provisionally in exceptional circumstances, subject to such conditions as the Bishops may determine, whilst the Rubrics for the Reservation of the Consecrated Elements—regarding which feeling ran so high when the Parliamentary discussions took place—are to be further considered by a committee of Bishops. It would appear to the outsider that this latest declaration by the Archbishops reflects an attempt to overcome the Parliament ban on the revised Book by seeking to limit practices conflicting with the Book of 1662 which, it is notorious, have been common in many churches throughout the country. A significant fact is that no departure from the Book of 1662 is to be permitted unless the people are in agreement with the incumbent. This should do much to curb ritual put into force by High Churchmen against the wish of their parishioners, but at the same time the point naturally suggests itself whether the Church is empowered, even within the limits laid down, to approve practices which have been definitely rejected by the House of Commons.

The Very Idea!

One of the features of life in Paris has been the concierge. In an apartment house or block of flats he—or more often she—was supposed to keep the stairway clean, to receive one's letters and parcels, and to direct callers to one's apartment. But the most unsatisfactory of his duties, both from his own point of view and that of the tenant, was that he had to let in the tenant when he returned late at night. This was a duty always done grudgingly, even when it meant a tip. Now there has come a revolution, and the Parisian with the freedom of a true-born Britisher is allowed a latchkey. More than 100 apartment houses dispensed with the services of concierges during last year, according to figures provided by the prefecture of police. But this was not done without opposition, the 12,000 concierges of Paris have formed an association to defend their interests and oppose the spread of the latchkey habit.

The late Mr. Philip Sulley had a good fund of stories dealing with his assessor days in life, and was fond of relating this one against himself. Having to deal with a rather recalcitrant old dame in the matter of a valuation appeal, he called upon her, and in the midst of their discussion, thinking to impress her, said—"You know I'm Sulley." The effect was not quite what was intended, for the old lady's reply was—"Awful! I can see ye're mebbe no' a' there; but for n', that ye're no' gaun to pit up my rent."

A man who gave evidence in a case in the Chancery Division recently was asked about his occupation.

"I have been a butcher and a licensed victualler," he said.

"Mr. Justice Eves: Meat and drink."

Barriester: And what are you now?—Partly retired.

And partly what?—Tired.

A little face—two eyes of brown,
No tiresome wrinkles, ne'er a frown;
Two little ears of velvet made,
Of nothing is he ever afraid.

A little nose which always pokes
About the affairs of other folks;
This seldom he has much to say,
And then it's in his quaint old way.

With little whines and little sighs,
And little looks from those brown eyes,
From morn till night he runs about,
His little limbs are ne'er tired out;

He's just a bundle, full of fun,
And waits for me when work is done.

For he loves me, and I love him—
My dear old friend—fox-terrier Jim.

A debt contracted fifty years ago was settled at Fleetwood recently when the Rev. J. W. Houlgate, a retired Congregational minister, who is 86 years old, received an anonymous letter containing £2.

The note read: "Please find enclosed £2 owing to your late father, Mr. Joseph Houlgate, of Lichfield. The amount of the account was £1 18s." The letter was post-marked from Aston, near Birmingham, and the handwriting is obviously that of an aged person. Mr. Houlgate said that his father, who was in business in Lichfield, died in 1886.

Growing boy, at Southend: I had work at an hotel, but lost it because my trousers were not long enough.

Mr. Cairns, Thames Court magistrate: What we all want is what the old people called the "Grace of God." I call it a sense of humour.

Man at the Thames Court: I was standing at the corner of Love-lane when he came, and threatened me with a chopper.

Wicked woman: My son, instead of calling me "mother," keeps on addressing me as "Mrs. Hitchhike."

Barriester, of another barriester at Shoreditch County Court: My friend has such angelic persuasiveness that I fear he will get his costs granted before I have time to speak.

"Who was King Lear?" thundered the teacher.

"Please sir," was the quivering reply, "he was the opponent of George Washington!"

CARRIED TOO MANY PASSENGERS.*IMPORTANT DECISION IN SHIPPING CASE.*FRENCH CERTIFICATE.

A case of interest to shipmasters running between adjacent ports and Hongkong, involving the validity of a passenger certificate issued by a foreign authority, was heard at the Marine Court this morning before Commr. J. B. Newill, D.S.O., R.N., when Captain H. A. Johnson of s.s. Shun Chih, a steamer running between Hongkong and Saigon, under the Chinese flag, was charged with entering the port of Hongkong, with an excess number of passengers on September 28. He pleaded not guilty, Mr. M. K. Lo appearing on his behalf.

Mr. Thompson, Boarding Officer, stated that he was on duty in the Kausung with Mr. Nunn, Boarding Officer, when the s.s. Shun Chih was shipped in Sulphur Channel. The ship was ordered to Stoncuthers Island and there the passengers were counted. It was found that there were 327 adults, 66 children and 75 crew on board, whereas according to Hongkong Regulations, the vessel was allowed to carry only 212 during the typhoon season. The passengers were counted with the aid of a police officer.

Mr. M. K. Lo pointed out to his Worship that there was no disputing the facts as given in the Boarding Officer's evidence, but a question was raised, as in a previous case, the s.s. Tai Fook Sing, as to the validity of the certificate held by the ship.

"Approximate."

In examination, Captain Johnson stated that when leaving Saigon, the exact number of passengers was known to the authorities, as each was provided with a pass, the half of which was retained by the police at that port and the other half by the passenger. For the purpose of expediting matters, it was usual for the ship to be cleared with an "approximate" number of passengers, which was clearly defined later. The custom of the port was that this "approximate" definition would be sufficient for clearing purposes. On this occasion the "approximate" number had been stated to be 300, but had it been found, on checking up, that 360 were on board, the Saigon authorities would not have allowed the ship to proceed.

A passenger certificate issued by the Saigon authorities was produced as evidence, and was shown to be still current. This allowed for the conveyance of 363 passengers, and, with certain modifications in cargo, for 406 passengers.

Witness informed his Worship that he had been on the Saigon-Hongkong run from January, 1928, and was fully acquainted with the Hongkong Port Regulations, especially with regard to the carriage of passengers. In accordance with the knowledge gained from such study, he was not aware that he was committing any offence, without mentioning any names, he had ascertained that his Saigon certificate was valid and could be accepted, at least temporarily. He added that the greater number of passengers demanding accommodation on that particular day might have been due to the fact that the s.s. Telemachus had been burnt out and therefore put off the run.

Equivalent Value.

Mr. M. K. Lo contended that according to ordinances, a foreign vessel could hold a passenger certificate of equivalent value and it would be acceptable in Hongkong, as for instance, a French ship, flying a French flag and carrying a French certificate. In this case it was a vessel flying the Chinese flag, but carrying a French certificate. Basing his claim for recognition on a previous finding of the Court, in which a Chinese vessel had carried a Canton passenger certificate, but had also a French survey certificate which had only just expired, and which his Worship's predecessor had stated would have been recognizable had it been current, Mr. Lo pointed out that it would be possible, if an adverse decision were given, that a ship although allowed to leave Saigon with a perfectly valid certificate in the eyes of that local authority, and, carrying a certain number of passengers, would not be allowed to enter Hongkong with those passengers. The result would be the barbarous expedient of throwing them overboard!

"That is the natural practice," observed His Worship, "except that they throw them into sampans."

Mr. Lo again referred to the Tai Fook Sing case. In this case the Governor-in-Council, to whom the case had been referred, had stated that the Canton certificate could not be considered as reasonably equivalent, but so far as

(h) Total amount of such refunds to date?

BURGLARS SENT TO PRISON.*TWO FOUND IN HOUSE AT KOWLOON.

The occupants of No. 103, Tai Nam Street, who were disturbed at 4.15 a.m. on Sunday by the surreptitious movements of unknown intruders, awoke just in time to see a man disappearing through the back door. Further investigations revealed the presence of a second man hiding behind the counter. He was arrested and handed over to the police, who, acting on information divulged by the arrested man, apprehended the other intruder.

Both appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistrate's court this morning on a charge of burglary, and pleaded guilty.

The first defendant, the man found behind the counter, admitted breaking into the premises, but the second defendant pleaded that he was merely keeping watch outside.

Sub-Inspector Hoare said, in reply to his Worship, that admission to the floor was gained by the second defendant climbing the back wall from a scuttling lane. He had reached the top of the wall by standing on the first defendant's back. He then opened the door to admit the first defendant. By means of a chopper which they inserted between the cracks of the door leading to the flat, the men were able to slide back the bar and enter the house.

They had taken a basket of clothing, which was subsequently found discarded in the back yard. Each defendant was sentenced to four months' hard labour.

Royal Westminster Ophthalmic Hospital, Broad-street, Holborn, under construction since November 1926, is now completed.

the Ordinance went, it was laid down that a national ship of a country carrying a certificate of that country would be exempt from proceedings. How then did that same certificate issued to the vessel of another flag become unequal?

A "Look-See."

Questioned by his Worship, the master stated that the ship had been surveyed in Hongkong last January. The passenger certificate held, had been issued by the Saigon authorities after a "look-see" of about 15 minutes' duration. In reply to questions by Mr. Lo, he admitted that the "look-see" might be regarded as a farce, but the certificate was signed by a Governor-General or some other high official.

His Worship, in finding that an offence had been committed, and inflicting a fine of $100, stated that it was contrary to the Ordinances of Hongkong for a foreign ship to have a passenger certificate other than that of her own nationality, unless that passenger certificate was of equivalent value to a British certificate.

The case against the master of a cargo boat for navigating the harbour without lights was then proceeded with, the accused having fallen asleep in the bottom of the dock during the earlier case. Pleading guilty, the man was fined $10, with the usual alternative.

DARING SHANGHAI ROBBERY.*LORRY WITH $24,000 ATTACKED.*GUNMEN ESCAPE AFTER AN EXCITING PURSUIT.*HAUL OF $14,000.

Shanghai, Sept. 27.

Four gunmen held up a motor lorry bearing $24,000, wages for the workers in the Poo Yih Cotton Mill, 87 West Soochow Road yesterday, and, wounding one of the Chinese in charge, putting a bullet into the steering wheel of the lorry, and another into the door which sheltered the driver, got away with $14,000 in China and South Seas Bank notes of five dollars denomination, after a running gun battle with police who had been attracted by the sound of firing.

The notes were in a bundle, lying between the driver and a representative of the mill in the seat of the cab of the lorry; while there was $10,000 in silver in boxes on the rear platform. The robbers knew exactly where to go for the portable loot. So soon as the lorry was stopped two made for the cab, and when the bundle was secured, all bolted for cover.

The Hold-Up.

The hold-up took place about 100 yards south of Markham Road, in Gordon Road, as the lorry was going north, towards the mill at 2.15 p.m. Two white-clad Chinese stepped into the road in front of the vehicle, waving their arms, and giving the driver the choice between the running them over and stopping. As he slowed down two others, both armed, jumped on to the steps of the cab, one firing a shot into the steering wheel and another at the driver's companion in the cab, missing him and putting the bullet deep into the far door.

Meanwhile his comrade grabbed the bag of notes between the two men and the two jumped off the lorry and ran down Gordon Road towards the Soochow Creek. One of the other two who had stopped the lorry attacked the Chinese who was seated on the platform in the rear keeping watch on the boxes of silver dollars, wounding him with a pistol shot in the arm. But the sound of police whistles blown a short distance away in response to the firing drove him and his assistant off, and they joined the others in their flight.

A Pistol Duel.

A Slick police constable stationed about 120 yards away from the scene of the hold-up was the first to give the alarm. Blowing his whistle, he ran towards the lorry, but the robbers had already begun their flight. A Chinese police constable on point duty at Markham Road attempted to stop the robbers but failed, while another Chinese policeman who was off duty and unarmed, came under their fire. The constable on duty returned the fire but none of the robbers dropped. Turning down Haiphong Road the robbers reached an open piece of cultivated ground, over which they ran in a

FRENCH SAILOR KILLED.*FRACAS ENDS FATALLY AT KIUKIANG.*INJURED IN FIGHT.

Kiukiang, Sept. 10.

The culmination of a fracas which might have involved all foreigners in the port came yesterday with the burial of an unfortunate French sailor who was killed in a brawl here which occurred last Thursday night; his body having been recovered from beneath Butterfield's hulk yesterday.

The sailor in question together with two companions from the French gunboat which left the port for Hankow after the burial came ashore on the night in question and proceeded to celebrate their liberty by breaking into the British Naval canteen which was closed at the time.

Here they helped themselves to as much beer as it was possible for them to swallow and left. They then in their perambulations entered a store in the town and commenced drinking spirits, possibly of dubious quality with the inevitable result.

The fracas appears to have started when they were on their way back to the ship as the serious phase of it is reported by an eyewitness to have commenced outside the Post Office. Here apparently the sailors were followed by a number of jeering coolies whose presence they appeared to resent, and decided to chase away.

The noise attracted the attention of the police who interfered and the fight then commenced. According to one report the dead sailor attempted to swim to the ship, and was thus drowned, but according to the medical evidence and the condition of the body when recovered this was an impossibility, as the sailor must have been dead before he ever reached the water, having sustained sufficient injuries about the head to have killed him.

Of his companions one is now lying in the hospital here too badly beaten to be moved, and the other was rescued and taken to the gunboat. In all other respects Kiukiang is fairly normal, with a considerable amount of cargo moving.

northerly direction, being finally lost sight of by the ever increasing band of pursuers.

News of the robbery reaching Gordon Road Police Station in quick time, Inspector Adams and D. S. McFarlane headed a posse of police to the place where the robbers had disappeared and threw cordon round the area. A thorough search, however, revealed nothing, and last night the men were still at large. In the whole affray 14 shots were fired by the robbers and five by the police.

The Lorry Unguarded.

This big sum of money—$24,000—had apparently been sent by the management of the mill on the lorry without the precaution of any armed guard. Neither of the Chinese who accompanied the driver was a guard. The wounded man is simply an employee of the mill, who appears to have been temporarily delegated to the task of seeing that none of the boxes of silver dollars was jolted off the back.

JUDGE CRITICISES GUARANTOR.*SIGNED DOCUMENT WITHOUT READING IT.*DESERVED TROUBLE.

A Chinese who signed and chopped a document as a guarantor without reading it, was criticised by Mr. Justice Jacks in the Summary Court this morning. The plaintiff was Au Pak-ming, No. 141, Bonham Strand East, and the defendants were Au Fung-chau and the Tin Shing Hing Kee restaurant, both of No. 2, Percival Street, Causeway Bay. The plaintiff claimed $325 being the balance of money lent to Au Pak-ming, the repayment of which was guaranteed by the defendant on December 7, last year.

The case for the plaintiff was conducted by Mr. C. A. S. Russ, while Mr. A. J. Arculli defended. In opening the case, Mr. Russ said the action started on March 10, 1928, in Summary Jurisdiction action No. 426. In that case the same plaintiff sued the same defendant for the same money. An endeavour was then made to produce the guarantee which was objected to, as the document was not stamped.

Document Stamped.

The plaintiff was accordingly non-suited with costs on June 12, this year, but leave was given to bring a fresh action within three months, provided that the document could be stamped. Mr. Russ added that the present writ was issued on August 28, which was within the time. The document had been stamped in the meantime.

Continuing, Mr. Russ stated that Au Pak-ming owed the plaintiff the sum of $325. The latter brought an action against Au Pak-ming in the Canton Court and obtained judgment against him. The defendant then came to Hongkong and the plaintiff also came down here later. The two met in the Victoria Cafe when the plaintiff threatened to take proceedings on the judgment and also told the defendant that if he went back to Canton he would be arrested.

The defendant asked for indulgence, and an agreement was accordingly drawn up and was signed by the guarantor (defendant) as well as Au Pak-ming. In consideration of the definite agreement, two instalments were to be made, and $200 had been paid under that agreement but nothing since.

Plaintiff's Denial.

After the plaintiff had given evidence, bearing out Mr. Russ's opening in which he said that the $200 had been paid by the defendant, he denied, in reply to Mr. Arculli, that the agreement was drawn up at the Cafe. It was, he said, drawn up at the defendant's restaurant. The promissory note and guarantor's clause were all written at the same time, and the note was not interfered with afterwards.

The defendant said that on December 7, last year, Au Pak-ming together with the plaintiff, visited the restaurant. Au Pak-ming had some Chinese letter-paper in his hand, bearing Chinese characters. He did not see the document written at the restaurant. He signed

Only one-fifth of a point separated the winner and the runner-up, 936.6 against 936.4. This is the first time that the average of all rolls during the month has been taken. In all previous competitions, only the average of the four best rolls has counted.—Our Own Correspondent.

LOCAL HOCKEY.

H.K.S.R.A. DEFEAT CLUB SECOND ELEVEN.

The second eleven of the Hongkong Hockey Club played against a team from the Hongkong and Singapore Royal Artillery at King's Park yesterday evening, when the latter secured the verdict by three goals to one.

For a large part of the game the Artillery were rather the better team, their forwards being thrifty and giving the Club backs plenty to do. The Club attack was rather on the weak side, several of the forwards not being able to control the ball very well. The Club goalkeeper had most to do of the two custodians, but he acquitted himself creditably.

The Artillery scored first, but matters were equalized by Woodward. There was no further scoring up to half-time, but on the resumption the Artillery gained another two goals without further reply from the Club.

Y.M.C.A. v Club de Recreio.

CANTON ATHLETICS.

INTER-PROVINCIAL MEETING SUGGESTED.

In order to promote the development of athletics in the southern provinces, the Preparatory Office of the Kwangtung Provincial Eleventh Athletic Meet has decided to hold an inter-provincial meet, to take place after the Kwangtung Provincial games. To this end the Preparatory Committee has written to the Education Department and Y.M.C.A. branches in Kowloon, Kweichow, Yunnan, and Fuhien, as well as the South China Physical Culture Association and Y.M.C.A. in Hongkong, inviting participation in the proposed games. The Kwangtung Provincial meet will take place during the five days from November 1 to 5, in the campus of the Chung Shan University. The date for the inter-provincial games has not yet been decided, but will be settled when replies have been received from the other provinces. Regulations governing the conduct of these games have been drawn up and circulated.

It is suggested that each province should send three competitors for each event, the events and the prizes to be the same as those fixed for the purely Kwangtung meet. The lodging houses of Canton will be asked to quote special rates for the visiting athletes so as to lighten the expense bill.

SHANGHAI CHINESE AND QUEEN'S v. S.C.A.A.

Owing to injury the Shanghai Chinese cannot put up a team for to-day's match, which should be a renewed match, with South China; therefore a few players from the Queen's Regt. have been chosen to combine with the Chinese players to play the match at 5 p.m. at Caroline Hill.

The following will represent the combined team—Underdown (Queen's) Farrell and Taylor (Queen's) Chen Chan-wo (Shanghai) Cantor (Queen's) Chan Pok (Shanghai) Richardson (Queen's) and Bunn (Queen's) Li Wai-long and Tai Luen-king (Shanghai) Eady (Queen's).

PAHANG ARREST.

MINING REPRESENTATIVE IN CUSTODY.

Ipo, Sept. 25. What the Times of Malaya describes as "the first shot in the new Pahang war over the Jelai Concession" has caused a great sensation in the F.M.S.

The Government of Pahang, states this newspaper, has arrested Mr. King, a representative of the Burma Malay Mining Co., for unlawful mining—that is to say, tin stealing—and also Mr. King's coolies, who were remanded on bail of $1,700 a fortnight ago. The hearing was postponed for a month. It is understood that the Burma Malay Co., which has strong Australian backing, claims Jelai Besar, while Raja Perak Tin, Ltd., claims Jelai Kechil.

Lady Osler, widow the late Sir Wm. Osler, formerly Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, has died at Oxford.

REDEEMED PAWN TICKETS.

PRISONER'S STORY TO THE POLICE.

A varied collection of garments was produced as exhibits in a case heard before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when a Chinese was charged with being in possession of two silk jackets, one silk petticoat and one long cotton coat, reasonably suspected of having been stolen or unlawfully obtained.

The defendant said he had found a pawn ticket relating to the articles mentioned and had redeemed them.

His Worship:—Why did you redeem them?

Defendant:—I wanted to see if they fitted me.

What the female's jacket?—I did not know what they were until I saw them.

You thought you would like to see if the silk petticoat would fit you?

Inspector Marks said the defendant was arrested at the Yau-mat Ferry wharf after disembarking. He told the police the same story as he had told the Court, and, on enquiries being made, it was established that the garments had been pawned and that they had been redeemed by a man who looked like the defendant.

Asked how, if he could not read, he had ascertained the name mentioned on the ticket, the defendant replied that he had asked a friend the name of the shop, but was not told what the ticket related to.

Inspector Marks told his Worship that enquiries had been made at the address of the person whose name appeared on the ticket, but he was not known at the place mentioned.

His Worship remarked that it looked very much as if someone had stolen the garments and given the defendant the ticket. Pawn tickets, his Worship said, were not generally thrown away. It was true that they were sometimes discarded but only thieves got rid of pawn tickets. The defendant was convicted and fined $10, with the alternative of 14 days' hard labour.

and chopped it. He denied that he paid the $200 on account.

Replying to Mr. Russ, defendant said he signed and chopped the document without reading it. Au Pak-ming was his uncle. If his uncle thought it right to sign, then he (defendant) thought it was all right.

Mr. Russ asked what was the use of cross-examining a man like that? "If you are as loyal as that, you will have to pay as well."

Defendant:—Even up to this very moment I don't know what it is about.

Mr. Russ:—You were really being generous?—Exactly, since my uncle thought it fit to sign.

Justice All Round.

Mr. Russ remarked that "you have to be just to the plaintiff as well as generous to your uncle."

Mr. Arcull pleaded want of consideration and further argued that the document was not valid at first when it was not stamped. By being stamped afterwards, prejudice had been caused to the defendant.

In summing up, his Lordship remarked that he felt no sympathy with the defendant if his story was true, that he signed the guarantee without reading it. Men who signed documents in such a manner deserved to get into trouble.

His Lordship gave judgment for the plaintiff with costs.

must rule and declared: "Socialism is inscribed on our banners." Britain and all its resources must be owned and used in the service of all the people.

He pointed out that credit money raised for capitalist investments in Asia and Africa could as easily be raised to re-organise and reconstruct our own national resources. "There was little sense in sending our best people thousands of miles away to grow food if at the same time we leave our own splendid soil uncultivated."

Mr. Lansbury called attention to the Government's "criminal folly" in dealings with India, China and Russia. He declared that although the Party entirely dissented from the proposal to apply Bolshevik methods of organisation to Britain, labour when it regained power would hold out the hand of friendship to the Russians.—Reuter.

AMERICAN PHYSICIANS SAID NOTHING IN THE WORLD COULD CURE HER BUT AN OPERATION.

CHINESE HERB TREATMENT MADE A COMPLETE CURE.

Mrs. Anaya, wife of Frank H. Anaya, who is a well known Modesto man engaged in the automobile business, residing at 181 Olive St., Modesto, Cal., U.S.A., suffered with a severe pain in the right side under the rib, and a large lump, soon to the touch, and many other complaints. Took Poo On Chinese Herbs and was completely cured.

Mr. Anaya Says:—"My wife had been suffering off and on for the last five years, complaining of a severe pain in the right side under the ribs, and a large lump sore to the touch. She also had headaches, was nervous, and suffered with constipation and indigestion. She had consulted physician after physician and had taken treatment from them but they all advised that she had appendicitis and nothing in the world could cure her except an operation. She had always dreaded an operation fearing she might die; being the mother of three children. Some time ago a particular friend of mine told me how he was cured by the Poo On Chinese Herbs; and I had also read his ads in the papers—how others were benefited by these herbs. So I sent my wife down to see the Herbalist, I understood then that the herbs could cure her in a short time. A few days later my wife and I having decided to take the herb treatment, called on the Herbalist for some herbs. After a few doses she was considerably better, and continued taking the herbs for a while then she was completely cured. All her pains disappeared and she gained in weight and felt better than she had in years. I can truthfully say that the Herbs made a complete cure of all her troubles and she has felt like a different person ever since." I myself have been cured by the Poo On Chinese Herbs, and my children too have found the Herbs a great relief to their various ailments."

Yee Foo Lun the noted Chinese Herbalist and founder of the Poo On Chinese Herb Co., from America had over twenty five years experience curing people of all ages and classes with Chinese Herbs. ### TRAFFIC OFFENCES.

EUROPEAN SUMMONED AT KOWLOON.

Several European motorists were involved in cases heard by Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon, when the usual weekly batch of summonses for breaches of the Traffic Regulations were taken by his Worship.

Against Mr. Wong Kam-pui, a charge of dangerous driving, at the Lai-chikok Pass Cutting, just beyond the Gaol, was brought, it being alleged that the defendant had overtaken a car on a blind corner.

Mr. A. Greenway, of the Kowloon Godown Co., describing the incident, said that he was returning from Castle Peak and was on the Tsun Wan Road, at a point known as the Lai-chikok Pass Cutting. The defendant's car was the third of three vehicles, Capt. Thomas, being second. The defendant overtook the Captain's car and had drawn abreast of Mr. Greenway's own vehicle, when a car travelling in the opposite direction forced the defendant to drop behind. He slowed down and swerved in immediately behind the leading car, forcing Capt. Thomas to apply his brakes to avoid a collision.

On rounding the bend, which was a blind corner, the defendant passed Mr. Greenway, which was a dangerous thing to have done on a corner.

The defendant admitted the facts as stated by Mr. Greenway. According to Sub-Inspector Nicol, the defendant had been driving a car since October 15, 1925, and had a clean record.

Remarking that the spot in question was the last place in the world, or at least in the Colony, for a motorist to pass another, his Worship imposed a fine of $25.

Flying Officer Fined.

Flight Lieutenant Gardner was summoned for failing to stop and render assistance to an aggrieved party after he had collided with a Chinese in Nathan Road at 10 p.m. on September 7. The defendant was further accused of not having reported the accident to the nearest Police Station as soon as he reasonably could.

The defendant entered a plea of not guilty.

The victim of the accident stated that he was crossing the Nathan Road near the Po Hing Theatre on the night in question and when he had almost reached the East side he was knocked down by a motor car which had been travelling towards the direction of the Star Ferry without any lights. No horn was sounded.

Almost immediately after the accident, a public car passed and a friend whom witness was with was instructed to take the car and chase the other vehicle.

Witness added that instead of stopping, the car which had knocked him down accelerated after the accident.

Distinctly Incomplete.

The friend who was with the first witness said that he chased the car to a side street near the end of Nathan Road, where it stopped. In order to keep up with it, the car in which witness was riding had to travel at high speed. During the chase witness could distinguish the first two figures on the number plate, but when the defendant's car stopped he saw that its number was 1846.

Witness said that he did not speak to anybody in the defendant's car.

His Worship: I must say the case is distinctly incomplete. Nobody seems to have spoken to anybody about the accident.

The defendant: I think I can explain that. May I go into the witness box.

The defendant went into the witness box and said that at the time of the accident he was travelling past the spot in question. He had slowed down to an estimated speed of 20 miles per hour. A Chinese rushed across the road from the right to the left, but witness was not aware that he had been struck, thinking that he had fallen down. Witness added that there was no dent on any part of his car.

Thinking that no serious accident had occurred, he did not think it necessary to stop and therefore drove on. Witness stated that he sounded his horn. One of his lights was on while the other was out.

Witness thought that the complainant had tripped. His Worship remarked that it seemed quite clear that the defendant saw and knew that a man had fallen down but had stated he was not aware an accident had occurred. Under the circumstances, his Worship thought the defendant's proper course was to have stopped and found out. A fine of $10 was imposed.

His Worship: When is he likely to come back?

Mr. Harper: I don't know.

Mr. Harper: I doubt it.

CHAPTER LIII

"Society unfortunately isn't ready for your nihilistic philosophy just yet," said Markham. "And during the intervening transition human life must be protected."
He rose resolutely, and going to the telephone, called up Heath.
"Sergeant," he ordered, "get a John-Doe warrant and meet me immediately at the Stuyvesant Club. Bring a man with you—there's an arrest to be made."
"At last the law has evidence after its own heart," chirped Vance, as he lazily donned his top-coat and picked up his hat and stick. "What a grotesque affair your legal procedure is," Markham. "Scientific knowledge—the facts of psychology—mean nothing to you learned Solons! There, now, is something convincing irrefragable, final, what?"
On our way out Markham beckoned to the officer on guard.
"Under no conditions," he said, "is any one to enter this apartment until I return—not even with a signed permit."
When we had entered the taxi-cab, he directed the chauffeur to the club.
"So the newspapers want action, do they?" Well, they're going to get it. You've helped me out of a nasty hole, old man."
As he spoke, his eyes turned to Vance. And that look conveyed a profounder gratitude than any words could have expressed.
It was exactly half past three when we entered the grand old Stuyvesant Club. Markham at once sent for the manager, and held a few words of private conversation with him. The manager then hastened away, and was gone about five minutes.
"Mr. Spotswoode is in his rooms," he informed Markham, on returning. "I sent the electrician up to test the light bulbs. He reports that the gentleman is alone, writing at his desk."
"And the room number?"
"Three forty-one." The manager appeared perturbed. "There won't be any fuss, will there, Mr. Markham?"
"I don't look for any," Markham's tone was chilly. "However, the present matter is considerably more important than your club."
"What an exaggerated point of view!" sighed Vance when the manager had left us. "The arrest of Spotswoode, I'd say, was the acme of futility. The man isn't a criminal, don't you know. He's what one might term a philosophic behaviourist."
Markham grunted but did not answer. He began pacing up and down agitatedly, keeping his eyes expectantly on the main entrance. Vance sought a comfortable chair, and settled himself in it with placid unconcern.
Ten minutes later Heath and Snitkin arrived. Markham at once led them into an alcove and briefly explained his reason for summoning them.
"Spotswoode's upstairs now," he said. "I want the arrest made as quietly as possible."
"Spotswoode!" Heath repeated the name in astonishment. "I don't see."
"You don't have to see—yet," Markham cut in sharply. "I'm taking all responsibility for the arrest. And you're getting the credit—if you want it. That suit you?"
Heath shrugged his shoulders. "It's all right with me anything you say, sir." He shook his head uncomprehendingly. "But what about Jessup?"
"We'll keep him locked up. Material witness."
We ascended in the elevator and emerged at the third floor. Spotswoode's rooms were at the end of the hall, facing the square. Markham, his face set grimly, led the way.
In answer to his knock Spotswoode opened the door and, greeting us pleasantly, stepped aside for us to enter.
"Any news yet?" he asked, moving a chair forward.
At this moment he got a clear view of Markham's face in the light, and at once he sensed the minatory nature of our visit. Though his expression did not alter, I saw his body suddenly go taut. His cold, indecipherable eyes moved slowly from Markham's face to Heath and Snitkin. Then his gaze fell on Vance and me, who were standing a little behind the others, and he nodded stiffly.

No one spoke; yet I felt that an entire tragedy was somehow being enacted, and that each actor heard and understood every word.
Markham remained standing, as if reluctant to proceed. Of all the duties of his office, I knew that the arrest of malefactors was the most distasteful to him. He was a worldly man, with the worldly man's tolerance for the misfortunes of evil. Heath and Snitkin had stepped forward and now waited with passive alertness for the district attorney's order to serve the warrant.
Spotswoode's eyes were again on Markham.
"What can I do for you, sir?" His voice was calm and without the faintest quaver.
"You can accompany these officers, Mr. Spotswoode," Markham told him quietly, with a slight inclination of his head toward the two imperturbable figures at his side. "I arrest you for the murder of Margaret Odell."
"Ah!" Spotswoode's eyebrows lifted mildly. "Then you have discovered something?"
"The Beethoven Andante," said not a muscle of Spotswoode's face moved; but after a short pause he made a barely perceptible gesture of resignation.
"I can't say that it was wholly unexpected," he said evenly, with the tragic suggestion of a smile; "especially as you thwarted every effort of mine to secure the record. But then... the fortunes of the game are always uncertain."
His smile faded, and his manner became grave. "You have acted generously toward me, Mr. Markham, in shielding me from the canaille; and because I appreciate that courtesy I should like you to know that the game I played was one in which I had no alternative."
"Your motive, however powerful," said Markham, "cannot extenuate your crime."
"Do you think I seek extenuation?" Spotswoode dismissed the imputation with a contemptuous gesture. "I'm not a schoolboy. I calculated the consequences of my course of action, and after weighing the various factors involved, decided to risk it."
"It was a gamble, to be sure; but it's not my habit to complain about the misfortunes of a deliberately planned risk. Furthermore, the choice was practically forced upon me. Had I not gambled in this instance, I stood to lose heavily nevertheless."
His face grew bitter.
"This woman, Mr. Markham, had demanded the impossible of me. Not content with bleeding me financially, she demanded legal protection, position, social prestige—such things as only my name could give her."
"She informed me I must divorce my wife and marry her. I wonder if you apprehend the enormity of that demand? ... You see, Mr. Markham, I love my wife, and I will have children whom I love. I will not insult your intelligence by explaining how, despite my conduct, such a thing is entirely possible. And yet, this woman commanded me to wreck my life and crush utterly those I held dear, solely to gratify her petty, ridiculous ambition!"
"When I refused, she threatened to expose our relations to my wife, to send her copies of the letters I had written, to sue me publicly—in fine, to create such a scandal that, in any event, my life would be ruined, my family disgraced, my home destroyed."
He paused and drew a deep inspiration.
"I have never been partial to half-way measures," he continued impassively. "I have no talent for compromise. Perhaps I am a victim of my heritage. But my instinct is to play out a hand to the last chip—to force whatever danger threatens."
"And for just five minutes, a week ago, I understood how the fanatics of old could, with a calm mind and a sense of righteousness, torture their enemies who threatened them with spiritual destruction. ... I chose the only course which might save those I love from disgrace and suffering. It meant taking a desperate risk. But the blood within me was such that I did not hesitate, and I was fired by the agony of a tremendous hate. I staked my life against a living death, on the remote chance of attaining peace. And I lost!"
Again he smiled faintly.
"Yes—the fortunes of the game. But don't think for a minute that I am complaining or seeking sympathy. I have lied to others perhaps, but not to myself. I detect a whiner—a self-excuser. I want you to understand that."

He reached to the table at his side and took up a small limp-leather volume.
"Only last night I was reading Wilde's 'De Profundis.' Had I been gifted with words, I might have made a similar confession. Let me show you what I mean so that, at least, you won't attribute to me the final infamy of cravenness."

TO-DAY'S FILMS.

"SPRING FEVER" AT THE QUEEN'S THEATRE.

Directed by Edward Sedgwick who also directed "Brown of Harvard," with the same popular star, William Haines, in the leading role, "Spring Fever," a new comedy of golf and girls is being screened at the Queen's Theatre to-day and to-morrow. With some intimate details of the famous game and a number of trick shots cleverly devised by the director, the story concerns the amusing and spiky adventures of a young man who becomes a golf celebrity after having been forced, through a laughable situation, to assume the identity of a millionaire. A charming romance runs throughout the picture and is in the capable hands of beautiful Joan Crawford. George K. Arthur, the comical hero of "Rookies," has an equally important part to play as a woolly rejected suitor. George Fawcett, Edward Earle and many others complete an excellent supporting cast.

"What Price Glory."

"What Price Glory," the world famous picture, returns for a season of five days commencing to-day at the World Theatre. "What Price Glory" is a wonderful picture. The central characters in the story are a captain and a sergeant of marines and a beautiful French peasant girl, superbly played respectively by Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and Dolores Del Rio. The picture begins in North China and the Philippines and then moves to France during the war. The battle scenes have been filmed on a magnificent scale, and the picture is altogether one of the greatest that the cinema industry has produced. "What Price Glory" will be screened until Saturday, and cinema goers should note that, owing to the unusual length of the film, special starting times have been arranged. The picture will begin promptly each day at 2.30, 5 sharp, 7.15 and 9.30.

Fast and Furious.

The ever popular star Reginald Denny arrives to-day at the Star Theatre in a quick moving, hilarious story of the motor race track, "Fast and Furious." Denny is seen as a speed-shy young man who is forced to enter into a motor racing event in order to win the hand of a beautiful girl. Romance, laughs and thrills galore will be found in this bright picture which has a charming heroine in pretty Barbara Worth. Written by Denny himself, the story is a continuous series of laughable incidents from start to finish. Claude Gillingwater, Lee Moran and others of note complete an excellent supporting cast. "Fast and Furious" will be shown again to-morrow.

The Michaelmas term of the Trinity College of Music, Manchester-square, W. 1 opened on Monday, September 24th.

KEYS IN SHOES.

THIEF DIDN'T LIKE THE JINGLING.

During the early hours of yesterday morning a Chinese detective arrested a coolie emerging from the alleyway between Armend Buildings and Observatory Villas, Kowloon. On being questioned, the man said he had been to see a friend at No. 1, Armend Buildings. He was taken back to the house where one of the servants claimed a jacket which the man was wearing. It was subsequently revealed that the man had entered the servants' quarters of No. 1, Armend Building and had stolen the jacket which contained 27 cents and other belongings. He was taken to the Police Station where he was searched and in each of his shoes the police found a key.

Before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, the man was charged with larceny of the jacket and with having, in his possession two keys for an unlawful purpose. The defendant pleaded guilty to the first charge, and, in reply to the second, said that he found the keys in the house from where he had stolen the coat. When asked why he had put the keys in his shoes, the defendant replied that "they were jingling and I didn't like that, so I put them into my shoes."

BACK TO GAOL AGAIN.

RETURNED BANISHEE'S WEEK OF LIBERTY.

Banished three years ago for a period of ten years, a Chinese, who appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, was stated to have been imprisoned on one previous occasion under the Deportation Ordinance and had only been discharged from gaol a week ago.

The defendant, who was arrested in Laichikok Road by the detective who was responsible for his arrest on a former occasion, had two previous convictions for false pretences some years ago, and in 1926 he was banished from the Colony.

Sentence of twelve months' hard labour and 20 strokes of the birch was imposed.

The struggle was only terminated by the arrival of a strong force of police from Hamburg.—Reuter.

Clarke's Blood Mixture

Our portrait is of Miss Florence Bignell, of 67, Scholars Road, Bournemouth, England, who's mother writes: "When eleven years old my daughter Florence had Eczema (Severe Eczema) on her face, arms and legs. The doctor gave her medicine and I bathed the sore places with a solution of Sulphur and used all kinds of soap but with no good results. Afterwards she attended Hospital for three years and had the skin treated for six months, but still she did not seem to get any better. Then I was recommended Clarke's Blood Mixture, and after having four bottles I could see it was doing her good, so I continued with it, and she is now quite cured and her skin is perfectly clear of the sore places."

American Express Travelers Cheques

Definition of TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES—
The system of Travellers' Cheques was originated in 1891 by the American Express Company with the object of creating a form of travel currency which would give the holder the security of a letter of credit and at the same time the convenience of local currency. The Company registered the cheques under the trade name of "AMERICAN EXPRESS TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES" the word "Travellers" being spelled with one "l". This advantage of the Cheques was so apparent that other banking institutions adopted the system.

Quoted from Pitman's Dictionary of Banking by Wm. Thomson.
Issued in $5.00, $10.00, $20.00, $50.00 and $100.00 denominations—bound in a small handy wallet and cost only 1/4 of 1 per cent. Secure your steamship tickets, hotel reservation and (tickets); or plan your cruise or tour through—

KIDNAPPERS SHOT.

ELEVEN MORE EXECUTED
IN SHANGHAI.

The remaining batch of 11 prisoners held at the Provisional Court, Shanghai, awaiting execution at the hands of the Chinese authorities, on the 20th ult., followed their 16 predecessors of the day before and were taken to Lunghua where the sentences of the Court were carried out in the late afternoon.

As in the previous instance they were each given an opportunity to make a last statement before a Court composed of Judge Taung and Senior Consul's Deputy, Mr. Burdett, but unlike their companions on the day before the majority confessed their crimes and the hearings were largely given up to matters more or less trifling, which seemingly were their last thoughts to be aired.

Too Kindly Officials.

Humour of a dreadful type was again the keynote and was largely abetted by the officials of the court who, on hearing of a last request of one of the accused that he would like some wine, raised a fund and the wish was granted. Too much so for the smooth running of the Court's machinery, it later turned out.

One of the first to appear was a short, closely cropped man who entered the court room with considerable swinging of the shoulders and a careless movement of his jaws as he munched something, evidently gum. After making a careful survey of the spectators and paying little attention to the Court he quitted long enough to give a short testimony, when came the evident reason for his nonchalance. There was a mistake in his picture of identification, his name being attached to another's photograph, and the Court was informed that the Chinese authorities would not receive him unless the matter was straightened out. Whether he was aware of the brief respite or not was not known, but the Court ordered the mistake to be rectified immediately and the gum-chewing stopped as did his high spirits.

The Prison Menu.

Another utilized his last statement to make a violent harangue about the food provided in prison and spoke until forcibly quieted by the attaches. He did admit his guilt and was little concerned over his coming execution, but the question of "chow" gave him great concern.

Still another faced the Court arrayed in a long fur-lined gown which he requested should be sold to provide him with a coffin. The Court stated that every consideration would be given to his wishes and after a profound bow and thanks to the police, who had led him into the room, he quietly walked back to the ward room and was easily the most composed of the lot.

The question of the gaol's food was again brought up by another of the accused who managed to reach the prisoner's bar only after entangling alliances with a large stationery upholding the ceiling. Finding he could not get through it he took a roundabout course which was only completed after three complete turns of himself not unlike pirouettes that caused him as much amusement as the specta-

KOWLOON LAND SALE.

$7,400 PAID FOR SITE FOR TENEMENT PROPERTY.

A parcel of Crown land, registered as Kowloon Inland Lot No. 2141, and situated at the junction of Mong Kok Road, and Sai Yeung Choi Street, was put up for public auction at the offices of the Public Works Department yesterday afternoon.

Measuring 3,100 square feet, the property attracted a large number of prospective buyers, and there was keen bidding when the sale was commenced at the upset price of $4,200. Bids of more than $100 were accepted, and the price was forced up to $7,400 before the property was knocked down to Mr. Chan Kin-cheung, a merchant, who gave his place of residence as No. 19, Yinchow Street, Sham-shuipo.

The site is to be built upon as tenement property.

He admitted his crimes and was content to let his doom after learning that he had given one of the officials of the conveyance sufficient money to provide him with a coffin. The money was to be turned over to the Chinese officials and, on being assured of this, he meandered from the box.

A Sad Note.

But stark drama entered the court and brought a more sober frame of mind to all concerned when one of the accused asked as a last request that he be given news of his wife who was a prisoner in a local gaol and was expected to give birth to a child the day before.

Always giving each prisoner his say and most deferential in every respect to the condemned men, the Court held up proceedings until the condition of his wife was ascertained and when given the news he broke down and wept, leaving the room with tears streaming down his face. The woman had died in childbirth and though the infant was living it had been taken up country by its maternal grandfather.

Of a Higher Type.

On the whole the men seemed a higher type than those of the day before, who were members of the Dixwell Road gang of kidnapers. These were not only better dressed but seemed more conversant with soap and water. They looked in several cases as though they might be moderately substantial shopkeepers and the one who possessed the fur coat helped the police to some extent by trying to keep order among his companions on their way into the van. He was older and seemed far more intelligent, but like the others he was a confessed kidnapper and went to his fate with the same composure he would assume in going about a more honourable business.

One of the younger of the lot made the plea that he did not want his parents to know what an ignominious death he had met and following out his wishes the Court gave orders that he be reported as having died in army service. This done, he thanked the Court and left the room.

The same large crowd was waiting outside as on the day previous and the prisoners were conveyed outside the Settlements with the same despatch that had accompanied the others.

MOTOR MISHAP.

PUBLIC CAR FALLS INTO THE HARBOUR.

While a public car was being backed at the motor car stand in Connaught Road Central, near the P. and O. Wharf, it got out of control and fell into the Harbour.

The machine was a five seater Chrysler in fairly new condition and owing to the depth of the water at the spot where it fell into the Harbour, it is feared that salvage operations would be rather difficult.

There was only the chauffeur in the car at the time of the accident. The man was perhaps a poor swimmer for he was heard shouting for help. The many chauffeurs in the vicinity quickly went to his aid with bamboo poles and ropes, but they were not able to "fish" him out. Several Chinese from launches in the vicinity next jumped into the water, but it was noticed that they were not good swimmers and were not able to assist the chauffeur who continued struggling and shouting for help.

At this stage, a Chinese boy of fifteen, who is believed to be connected with one of the motor boat companies at Blake Pier jumped into the Harbour, and thanks to his efforts, the chauffeur was rescued. The boy managed to slip a life buoy to him and although in great difficulties, he managed to hold on. He was then extricated from the water and was sent to the Government Civil Hospital.

CATHOLIC WORK.

SIX NEW BUILDINGS IN THE COLONY.

There are at least half a dozen works in progress at the moment in our midst that are of interest to Catholics, says the current issue of the Rock. The Brothers have started work on their new college at Kowloon; the new buildings which the Wah Yan are adding to their establishment at Robinson Road, are nearing completion; at Sham Shui Po the building which is to house the (Chinese) Sisters of the Precious Blood has reached the second story.

When completed, it will include a convent for the Sisters, a school for girls and a chapel that will seat about 800 persons. The New Chapel being built by the French Sisters at Causeway Bay will be completed before the end of the year. The Salesian Fathers are well ahead with their additional buildings at St. Louis, West Point. When completed, these buildings will house their own students of philosophy and theology who will be transferred thither from Macao. Finally a beginning has been made with the erection of the long-talked-of hall for Catholic students attending the University of Hongkong.

The University Hall.

Reference to the beginning of work on the University Hall recalls the part which the Rock played in urging the establishment of this very necessary complement of our Catholic educational institutions. Those who founded it in October 1920, and those who kept it going up to the time when, owing to the political troubles and other difficulties, it had to suspend publication, may take a legitimate pride in recalling their efforts on behalf of a University Hall for Catholics. In its very first number the Rock pleaded for the establishment of a Catholic Hall. Referring to the efforts made by Bishop Pozzoni as early as 1913 and the complete failure which attended the efforts of the Committee formed for this purpose, the first number said:

"While the war had much to do with the difficulty confronting Bishop Pozzoni in completing his plans for the provision of a Catholic hostel, it is earnestly to be hoped that with the gradual if slow return to normal conditions, this marked deficiency in the Catholic educational system in Hongkong will be made good before long. It should be a pleasure, to each and every member of the Catholic community to co-operate with Bishop Pozzoni to make the Catholic hostel an accomplished fact."

This reference brought forth the following sympathetic comment from the South China Morning Post:

"The reputation for encouraging learning and for scientific work which this religious body has earned, as well as their well-known deep interest in educational work, enables their friends to be sanguine that they will soon provide a hostel in connexion with the University."

A Lesson to be Learned.

The Rock continued to press for a Catholic hostel in the face of almost insuperable difficulties. While it is matter for congratulation that the scheme is at long last about to be realized and that preparations are already under way at the Fly Point Battery site on Pokfulam Road, yet we cannot omit to point a moral that has application to many other of our needs in Hongkong. In the circular sent out in 1918 it was pointed out that "a large sum, estimated at about 40,000 dollars, is immediately required. . . and all should give without delay."

The old proverb has been proved to be an understatement. What could have been done for 40,000 in 1918 is now costing us not twice, but three times that sum. If the Catholic population had given quickly in 1918, they would have given not twice but three times the present value of their money.

It may be replied that by not giving in 1918 they have escaped giving altogether, since the money needed is now being provided by a loan from outside Hongkong. But it still remains true that this heavy expenditure will greatly retard the development of one body working among the Catholics of Hongkong and to delay the establishment of other works which are second in importance only to that of the University hostel.

To that extent the Catholic body will ultimately be sufferers for their own want of foresight. Are we going to have the same experience in regard to the rapid development and the rapid rise in values on the Kowloon side of the water?

GREEK PREMIER'S MISSION.
IN LONDON TO EXPLAIN PACT WITH ITALY.

BALKANS STABILITY.

London, Oct. 1.
M. Venizelos, the Greek Premier, after signing the pact of friendship between Greece and Italy at Rome, paid a visit to Paris where he conferred at some length with French statesmen, and is now in London.

He has already met Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Lord Cushendun, the acting Foreign Secretary, and Sir Ronald Lindsay, and has engaged in lengthy conversations.

In an interview with Reuter, M.
Venizelos said he came to London merely to explain what he had done in Rome in order to avoid the possibility of misunderstandings.

M. Venizelos said that his policy aimed at the conclusion of similar pacts with all Greece's neighbouring States, but these should not be interpreted as alliances.

He declared he was working towards Balkan understanding, and mentioned that Turkey was about to sign a pact of friendship with Bulgaria, but it was essential, he added, for Balkan understanding that there should be real friendship between Bulgaria and Yugo-Slavia.

The Italo-Grecian Pact provides that each party pledges its neutrality in the event of an unprovoked attack on the other by a third party, promises political and diplomatic support in the event of the other being the object of attack, and if mutual interests are threatened, the parties agree to act in concert as regards the measures to be taken for their common defence.—Reuter.

TRAFFIC OFFENDERS IN COURT.

PUBLIC DRIVERS SUMMONED FOR SPEEDING.

A number of public car drivers were summoned for speeding in various parts of the Colony when a week's traffic cases were dealt with this morning by Major C.
Willson.

There were several cases from Whitfield, a controlled area, two persons being fined $15 while a third was fined $20. The Police stated in respect of one culprit that he went as fast as thirty-two miles per hour.

Queen's Road East, between Arsenal Street and Garden Road, appears to be another spot where drivers get the impulse to "step on it." Two cases were mentioned in which it was stated that the defendants were doing 27 miles, while in a third case, the defendant reached thirty miles per hour.
Fines of $10 were imposed.

Other cases of speeding, in which fines between $10 and $15 were imposed, occurred in Connaught Road Central, Des Voeux
Road Central and in Shaukiwan Road.

For driving on the wrong side of the road, a Chinese motor cyclist who was stopped by a traffic policeman in Connaught Road Central, was fined $5.

LONDON-MALAYAN TIN TRUST.

GOOD RESPONSE TO CALL FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS.

London, Oct. 1.
The subscription list for the London-Malayan Tin Trust has closed almost immediately after being opened.

The Trust is a combine of sixteen important Companies with a combined output approximating to 12 per cent. of the total world production of tin. It has a capital of £2,000,000 in £ shares, of which £1,250,000 is now issued.

The Tin Selection Trust and Anglo-Oriental Mining Corporation,
Ltd., is sponsoring the combine.—
Reuter.

A British Wireless message states that owing to heavy oversubscription, the lists were closed at ten o'clock. In the prospectus it is intimated that important negotiations are in progress with other leading Eastern dredging groups, and it is intended to aim at uniformity of policy and management over the widest possible area within the Eastern tin fields.

Mr. A. P. Tarbuck, a time-keeper of the Hongkong Electric Company, who lives in premises owned by the Company at 23, Shaukiwan Road, has reported to the police that on Sunday night a sum of $190 was stolen from a locked drawer in his bedroom, apparently by someone who had a duplicate key.

Following the receipt of the complaint, yesterday, the police went to the house to investigate. They questioned the cook-boy, and subsequently took him into custody on suspicion of having committed the theft.

PUBLIC MONEY REQUIRED.

VOTES TOTAL MORE THAN $140,000.

GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER WAR MEMORIAL SITE.

B.A.T. FEES REFUND.

Seven votes totalling $147,746
are to come before the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council at its meeting on Thursday.

One of these items shows that the whole of the Stubbs Road site which had been laid out for a War Memorial Hospital now reverts to the Government, which will pay the cost of the road thereto.

The votes for which money is asked are as follows:

China Company Fees.
A sum of $54,325, for refund of China Companies fees.

It is explained that Ordinance
No. 12 of 1923 reduces the annual China Companies fees to 1 per cent. per $100 of paid-up capital in the case of a private China Company if the Governor-in-Council is of opinion that substantially all the shares in it are held by a parent Company incorporated in some part of the British Empire.

It has been decided to make this reduction in respect of the year 1927, and this involves a refund of $54,324.23 in respect of

MANCHURIA TO HOIST NATIONALIST FLAG.

Allegiance Declaration Next Week?

CHINA'S NATIONAL DAY.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.
It is probable that Manchuria will officially declare her allegiance to the Nanking Nationalist Government on October 10th, the China
National Day.

General Chang Hsueh-liang is reported to have cabled the Nanking leaders to that effect.

Incidental Expenses.
A sum of $185 for incidental expenses for the Audit Department.

It is explained that the vote of $400 for the present financial year has been found to be insufficient, owing to increase in the Audit
Staff. Considerable expenditure has been incurred in the purchase of files for audit documents.

Fire Float Votes.
A sum of $7,000 under Fire Brigade for repairs to floating engines. The provision made in Estimates was $5,000 and the estimated expenditure to December 31st is $12,000.

The excess over the vote is due to two main causes:—(1) repairs necessitated by the breakdown in the pumps on No. 1 Float (2) an increase over the amount anticipated in the cost of the annual overhauls, due partly to the defective condition of the boiler in No.
3 Float.

Provision for a new boiler has been made in the 1929 Estimates.

Oil For Railway.
A sum of $3,400 for locomotive oil for the Kowloon-Canton Railway.

The provision made in Estimates was $5,000, and the excess is due to requirements being underestimated, especially as regards higher grades of lubricating oil found to be necessary in connexion with the through haulage to Canton.

A sum of $7,836 for access road to Homantin Cemetery.

A sum of $25,000 for training
stream course in new cemetery
area, Homantin.

The main nullah in connexion
with the Central Cemeteries Area
at Homantin, is now completed
and a few necessary contingent
works are in hand. It was originally anticipated that the nullah
would be completed in 1927 but pressing works in connexion with military requirements added to
bad weather occasioned delay.

Consequently the work on the nul-
lah was not started till late in the year and only some $14,000 was expended in 1927 instead of $40,- 000.

There is no vote provided for
this work this year, and a re-vote
of $25,000 unexpended in 1927 is requested.

Kowloon Development.
A vote of $50,000 under Public
Works Extraordinary for General
Works, Roads, kerbing, channell-
ing and other small works to keep pace with development.

Provision was made in the estimates for $50,000, and this new vote is to meet the cost of macadam-
izing road surface, kerbing,
channelling, etc., adjacent to new lots and buildings. Owing to rapid and continuous development,
the amount provided in the 1928
Estimates has proved inadequate,
and this supplementary vote is requested to meet the cost of the items which should be carried out
this year.

STOP PRESS.
CHINESE POLICE TO PATROL POST OFFICE.

Shanghai, Oct. 2, (1.55 p.m.)
The municipal police have permitted Chinese constabulary from the Public Safety Bureau to enter the Settlement for the purpose of patrolling the Post Office. The foreign Police are cooperating to prevent violence and damage to mail bags.—Our Own Correspondent.

ROCKEFELLER GIFT TO CAMBRIDGE.

OFFER OF THREE QUARTERS OF A MILLION.

NEW LIBRARY SCHEME.

London, Oct. 1.
The outgoing Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge University has announced that the Rockefeller Foundation Fund has made a gift to the University of £275,000 to provide for the development of Physical and Biological Studies and the provision of a new Library.

The gift is made conditionally on the University securing the balance of £220,000.

The building of the Library, which alone will cost £500,000, will be commenced without delay, as the University has already ear-marked £250,000 for this purpose.

The Rockefeller Fund has also ear-marked a sum of £250,000 for the Library.—Reuter.

A British Wireless message, reporting the gift, states that the new developments in the Physical and Biological Studies of the University have been for some time regarded as urgent by the heads of those Departments. The new Library has been designed by Sir Gilbert Scott.

In announcing the gift the Vice-Chancellor, the Rev. G. A. Weekes, described it as "a splendid offer of assistance."

NO TYPHOON DANGER.

To-day's Observatory report states that the typhoon is about 300 miles south-south-east of Hongkong, moving west. Strong to fresh monsoon may be expected along the south-east coast of China and over the Northern portion of the North China Sea. The anticyclone is now central to the north of Tokyo. The forecast till noon to-morrow is:—N.E. winds, fresh; generally cloudy; some rain.

to War Memorial Nursing Home, Stubbs Road; portion of the cost
at present charged to an Advance Account. The vote requested is to enable the amount named to be transferred from the Trustees of War Memorial Advance Account (to which it is charged at present) to Government funds.

Details of the cost of the road are as follows:—Amount provided in 1925 Estimates, $80,000; amount provided by Supplementary Vote, $15,000; actual expenditure in 1925 under Contract on P.W.E. 23,
Item T. No. 32/24 and stores, etc., $44,812.08; amount provided in Estimates (P.W.E. 10 "A"), $4,000; amount provided by Supplementary vote, $6,000; actual expenditure in 1926, under Contract on P.W.E. 10, Item J. No. 32/24 and stores, etc., $7,835.41.

The total amount provided for the work was $55,000; and the total net expenditure $52,647.49.

All expenditure has been met from Government funds to date, but under an agreement with the Trustees whereby they were to pay two-thirds of the total cost of the road the amount expended in 1926,
viz. $7,835.41 was debited, pending a final settlement, to Trustees of War Memorial Advance Account.

Under the new War Memorial Scheme the whole Stubbs Road
Site is to revert to the Government and the cost of the road will be met wholly from Government funds.

Homantin Cemetery.
A sum of $25,000 for training
stream course in new cemetery
area, Homantin.

The main nullah in connexion
with the Central Cemeteries Area
at Homantin, is now completed
and a few necessary contingent
works are in hand. It was originally anticipated that the nullah
would be completed in 1927 but pressing works in connexion with
military requirements added to
bad weather occasioned delay.

Consequently the work on the nul-
lah was not started till late in the
year and only some $14,000 was
expended in 1927 instead of $40,- 000.

There is no vote provided for
this work this year, and a re-vote
of $25,000 unexpended in 1927 is requested.

Kowloon Development.
A vote of $50,000 under Public
Works Extraordinary for General
Works, Roads, kerbing, channell-
ing and other small works to keep pace with development.

Provision was made in the estimates for $50,000, and this new
vote is to meet the cost of macadam-
izing road surface, kerbing,
channelling, etc., adjacent to new lots and buildings. Owing to rapid and continuous development,
the amount provided in the 1928
Estimates has proved inadequate,
and this supplementary vote is requested to meet the cost of the items which should be carried out
this year.
